 Training And Background:

Diploma of Screen – Queensland School of Film and Television
Certificate IV in Video Production – NMIT

My career in the film and TV industry began at the age of 18 when I was invited to Connecticut, USA, to work as the Directors Assistant to Sundance winning director David Grotell on the feature film A Bad Spell. My relationship with David began during my time at the New York Film Academy whilst attending one of their courses at the University of California Los Angeles (UCLA).

Upon returning to Australia I enrolled in the Queensland School of Film and TV. During this time I served in the Army Reserves as a Rifleman parading for 2 years with 25th/49th Royal Qld Regiment and a further 2 years with 5th/6th Royal Vic Regiment. Since completing my Diploma of Screen, I have worked as an AD on both local and international feature films and television series, as well as professional short films, TVC's and documentaries.
